UNIT: WORK ETHICS AND PRACTICES Joy NKATHA.

TYPE OF EXAM: CAT 1

27/30

90%

Instructions: Answer ALL questions on this paper.

1. Define work ethics and explain why it is important in the workplace. (4marks)
2. List and briefly explain four key principles of professional ethics that guide employee behavior. (8marks)
3. State any four unethical behaviors that may occur in a workplace (4marks)
4. Noel has been described as being assertive. State any four characteristics of Noel. (4marks)

5. Every organization must have a defined vision and mission.

   a) Distinguish between a vision and mission (2marks)

   b) State any two qualities of a good vision (2marks)

6. Your supervisor has asked you to participate in a cover-up of a safety incident to avoid penalties from inspectors.

   a) What ethical dilemma does this situation present? (2 marks)

   ...would you take to respond ethically and professionally? (4 mark

1. Workplace ethics → The set of moral principles that guide an individual's behaviour in a professional work environment. 2

(or) → Promotes trust and credibility. 1

2. Confidentiality → The employee is able to keep the information secrets of the company that is confidential.

Accountability → The employee takes responsibility of his action

Fairness → Treats other employees without discrimination.

Respect → Values other employee's feelings. 4+4

3. Discriminating others.
Always being late for work
Abusing substances in work environment
Bullying other employees. 4

4. (a) Noel is open and clear in his communication.
He seeks win-win solution.
He values other people's feelings. 3

5. (a) Vision - A vision is a clear view of want you want to achieve while mission is the means in which you want to achieve your vision. 1

(b) Should be clear
Should be realistic 2

6. (a) Fear of losing my object/job if I expose the company's doings.
The supervisor expects total obedience whereas I have to be loyal to the inspectors. 2

iii. Choose honesty ✓

Try talking to my seniors before the inspectors arrive.

I would adhere to the law and choose what is right.

3