MARTIN NDUGIRE

24/30

UNIT: WORK ETHICS AND PRACTICES

TYPE OF EXAM: CAT 1

80%

Instructions: Answer ALL questions on this paper.

1. Define work ethics and explain why it is important in the workplace. (4marks)
2. List and briefly explain four key principles of professional ethics that guide employee behavior. (8marks)
3. State any four unethical behaviors that may occur in a workplace (4marks)
4. Noel has been described as being assertive. State any four characteristics of Noel. (4marks)
5. Every organization must have a defined vision and mission.
   a) Distinguish between a vision and mission (2marks)
   b) State any two qualities of a good vision (2marks)
6. Your supervisor has asked you to participate in a cover-up of a safety incident to avoid penalties from inspectors.
   a) What ethical dilemma does this situation present? (2 marks)
   b) What steps would you take to respond ethically and professionally? (4 mark

CamScanner

(1) Its day to day behaviors or acts on how you relate with other people and personal health.
> It helps you identify different types of people and how to handle them at work. and guides to perform shedules > promotes honesty & trust
> It improves productivity 2
(2 Honesty → Being truthful and not giving false information
(ii) Respect → Being respectful and politely with the other workers and customers
(iii Responsibility → Doing your duties properly and being accountable for your actions. 4
(iv Confidentiality → Keeping private company and customer information safe
(3 Stealing company properties
(ii Being dishonest which is giving false information
(iii Harrassing other employees 4
(iv Reporting work when drunk.
(4 Confident when giving Ideas
(ii Communicates clears
(iii Can say no without being rude 4
(iv Respecting other peoples opinions
(5 Vision describes what the organaization wants to achiere in future. while mission is describes the organaization main purpose 4
(6 It should be clear & easy to understand.
(i) It should be realistic and achievable 2